Print Notes: (Please read before signing below)

This proof is just to show graphics with approximate positioning of your artwork as for printing onto the final product.

Colours displayed on computer screens may vary considerably from those of and printed on the actual product.

Pantone colours can only ever be approximated to as closely as we find technically possible and may vary according to the material on which they are printed, particularly when printing onto coloured product and even from repeat order to repeat order.

When printing on plastics, registration fluctuations will occur, pixellation is determined by the graphics and the colour never stays true to pantone equivalent. Your artwork approval/go-ahead assumes you have accepted these standard print procedure notes and we cannot accept complaint in respect of them. If you want a "last minute" change of artwork AFTER approving, there will be an extra charge if we have already produced the film(s), screen(s) or started printing.
